II. INTRODUCTION

A. PURPOSE OF THIS REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL

Santa Fe County (County) wants to replace its existing Fund Balance, Reserve, and Budget Contingencies Policy with a risk-based reserve policy based upon chance-based simulation. It seeks to engage a qualified entity to perform the risk-based reserve analysis, provide the County with the model used to perform the chance-based simulation, identify potential risks for which parametric insurance might be an appropriate reserve supplement tool, and make recommendations concerning the parameters of the risk-based reserve policy.

B. BACKGROUND AND REFERENCE MATERIAL

The County adopted its current Fund Balance, Reserve, and Budget Contingencies Policy in 2019 via Resolution No. 2019-7, which is available here, Santa Fe County Resolution No. 2019-7.

Pursuant to the current policy, the Board of County Commissioners annually commits fund balance of the general fund, special revenue funds, enterprise funds, and self-insurance fund. The most recent fund commitment resolution, Resolution No. 2024-82, is available here, [Santa Fe County Resolution No. 2024-082.

In addition to the requirements of the County's current Fund Balance, Reserve, and Budget Contingencies Policy, the Local Government Division of the New Mexico Department of Finance and Administration requires counties to maintain the following as a cash flow reserve: 3/12 of the general fund and 1/12 of the road fund. These amounts are classified as Restricted Fund Balance.

Separate and apart from committed fund balance, the County's current practice is to use budget contingencies to plan for certain risks. These include:

- A Recession Revenue Replacement Contingency. The County's current practice is to use revenue forecasts from an independent economist to build its budget. The economist provides high, mean, and low estimates for major revenues. The County uses the mean estimate as the basis for its budget, which provides upside revenue potential. The Recession Revenue Replacement Contingency protects against downside revenue risk; it is the difference between the economist's mean estimate and low estimate for property taxes and gross receipts taxes for the next fiscal year. For Fiscal Year 2025, the amount of the Recession Revenue Replacement Contingency is $4,865,000.
- The County also includes various other contingencies in its budget for things like judgements and settlements, insurance deductibles, and unexpected services and capital purchases. These total $6,050,000 for Fiscal Year 2025.

The County's Fiscal Year 2023 Annual Comprehensive Financial Report (ACFR) is available here, Santa Fe County's FY 2023 ACFR. While the financial information is not current in the Fiscal Year 2023 ACFR, it provides useful information concerning the County's revenue sources and funds.

The County is in the process of adopting a new Hazard Mitigation Plan. The draft released for public comment is available here, Public Comment Draft of Hazard Mitigation Plan.

The County is interested in replacing its current policy with a risk-based reserve policy based upon chance-based simulation. For background information, see the Government Finance Officers Association May, 2023, Publication, Should We Rethink Reserves, available here, [Should We Rethink Reserves by GFOA.]

The successful offeror will perform the risk-based reserve analysis, provide the County for its perpetual use the model used to perform the analysis, identify potential risks for which parametric insurance might be an appropriate reserve supplement tool, and make recommendations concerning the parameters of the risk-based reserve policy.

C. SCOPE OF WORK

The Contractor shall:

- Perform a risk-based reserve analysis for the County using chance-based simulation. The analysis shall take into consideration:
 - The County's desire to maintain its AAA bond rating with S&P;
 - Use of budget contingencies (e.g., revenue replacement budget contingency) as a means of planning for certain foreseeable risks;
 - Hazards identified in the County's Hazard Mitigation Plan;
 - Risks identified through written or virtual interviews of County Management;
 - Revenue risk;
 - Cash-flow risk;
 - Public health risk;
 - Public safety risk;
 - Other risks identified by the Contractor; and
 - The County's existing insurance policies.
- Develop and deliver to the County for its perpetual use the model used to perform the chance-based simulation, which model shall be in Microsoft Excel or other format designated by the County.
- Identify potential risks for which parametric insurance might be an appropriate reserve supplement tool.
- Recommend the parameters of a risk-based reserve policy, which shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

- A range of desired reserves, with a floor and ceiling;
- Reserve tranches that can be used to optimize investment strategies based upon the likelihood that the tranches will be needed to cover the risks for which the reserves were established;
- Risks to be pooled, including an assessment and recommendation concerning whether the County's special revenue funds should have separate reserve requirements or whether the risks to those funds should be pooled in a general fund reserve or otherwise; and
- A policy on interfund borrowing.

The following are excluded from the scope of the Contractor's work:

- Use of reserves as a savings account for capital purchases; and
- The County's Water Enterprise Fund and Housing Enterprise Fund.

D. INSURANCE REQUIREMENTS

The insurance required by Offeror are listed below.

1. General Conditions. Contractor shall submit evidence of insurance as is required herein. Policies of insurance shall be written by companies authorized to write such insurance in New Mexico.
2. General Liability Insurance, Including Automobile. Contractor shall procure and maintain during the life of this Agreement a comprehensive general liability and automobile insurance policy with liability limits in amounts not less than $1,000,000 combined single limits of liability for bodily injury, including death, and property damage for any one occurrence. Said policies of insurance shall include coverage for all operations performed for County by Contractor; coverage for the use of all owned, non-owned, hired automobiles, vehicles and other equipment, both on and off work; and contractual liability coverage under which this Agreement is an insured contract. County of Santa Fe shall be a named additional insured on the policy.
3. Workers' Compensation Insurance. Contractor shall comply with the provisions of the Workers' Compensation Act.
4. Professional Liability Insurance. The Contractor shall procure and maintain during the life of this Agreement a Professional Liability Insurance.
5. Increased Limits. If, during the life of this Agreement, the Legislature of the State of New Mexico increases the maximum limits of liability under the Tort Claims Act (NMSA 1978, Sections 41-4-1 through 41-4-29, as amended), Contractor shall increase the maximum limits of any insurance required herein.
